COXEY GOT IN.

MAKES AN ADDRESS

To Congress Today On the Floor of the House

On the Subject of the Industrial Depression.

WASHINGTON, May 9 .- There was an unusually large attendance of members of the house committee on labor at its meeting today, drawn there largely by New York's Mayor May Become the Head the expectation that General Coxey probably would be in attendance to speak on Representative McGann's resolution for the appointment of a joint committee of the senate and house to investigate the cause of the prevailing industrial depression.

The general was early at the capitol in company with Col. A. E. Redstone, of Washington. Mr. Coxey presented a petition from the commonweal army that he and Carl Browne be permitted to address the committee in behalf of the dress the committee in behalf of the Coxey bills for the construction of good roads, and for the issuance of non-interest bearing bonds. Coxey supplemented the reading of the petition with a brief statement and then answered questions put to him by members of the committee.

"There are," he said, "billions of dollars worth of improvements throughout the country to be made and there are millions of men to make them. There is but one thing standing in the way, and that is money.'

The passage of his two bills would solve the industrial depression and set all men to work. He asked for 99 per cent of people the same privileges as are enjoyed by one per cent, the national banking class, who alone are represented in congress.

Mr. Ryan (Dem., N. Y.) pressed Mr.

Coxey for proof of this assertion.

"Have you any showing to make, any proofs to offer, that you represent 99 per cent of the people?" asked Mr. Ryan. "No," said Coxey after thinking a moment, "I don't claim that." This closed Coxey's hearing, and the general retired. I. E. Dean, member of the executive committee of the Farmers' Alliance, followed with a recital of the depressed condition of labor.

Senator Allen's Coxey resolution went over until tomorrow, when Senator Teller and others will speak on it.

COXEY IN THE CAPITOL. Senator Allen Discourses On His Resolution of Investigation.

WASHINGTON, May 9 .- Jacob S. Coxey general of the Commonweal had his two lieutenants, Carl Browne and Christopher Columbus Jones who were convicted in the police court yesterday were in the lobby in the rear of the senate when that | Italian Laborers About to Be Driven away body met today anticipating a further airing of their case in connection with the Allen resolution to investigate the alleged police clubbing on the capitol

At the conclusion of the morning business, Mr. Allen, (Pop. Neb.) called up his resolution for the appointment of a spe-cial committee to investigate the police interference with the Coxey demonstration on the capitol steps, May 1st.

Mr. Allen spoke with feeling. He had waited a week after the outrage committed on the capitol grounds before introducing his resolution, he said, expecting that one of the senators from Ohio, the state from which Mr. Coxey came, would take steps toward its investigation. Mr. Coxey came from the congressional district formerly represented by Governor McKinley. In his opinion, such scenes as took place in the presence of 10,000 people on May 1, on the plaza in front of the capitol, should be investigated without delay.

Cripple Creek Industrials Seize a Train at Pueblo.

They Are Coming Eastward Through Kansas.

Engines Thrown Into Ditches by Missouri Pacific

A VAIN EFFORT

To Stop the Band of Train Stealers.

They Build Around the Obstructions and Move On.

SIX ENGINES DITCHED

In Different Places All to No Avail.

Balie Waggener Leaves Atchison on a Special.

PUEBLO, Col., May 9.—At 6:30 last evening as an engine of the Rio Grande was taking coal here it was suddenly surrounded by fifteen of the commonweal army under Gen. Sanders of Cripple Creek. They took the engineer and ran the locomotive down to the Missouri Pacitic yards, where were six coal cars that had been left there a short time before. The whole band boarded these cars, and attaching a Rio Grande engine started for the east at a lively gait.

The superintendent immediately had an engine and a freight car overturned at Olney in a cut.

News was received this morning that the Coxey industrials had succeeded in getting around the obstruction near Olney and had resumed their journey eastward about 3:30 a. m.

Superintendent Derby, when notified by wire that the train seizers were again motion, ordered four engines which had been awaiting developments at Arlington, 55 miles from here, to go east rapidly. He also ordered another locomotive to be ditched near Haskell which is beyond Arlington. Not a train except the stolen one is now running on the Missouri Pacific in Colorado.

The tank at Ordway, ten miles beyond Olney, has been emptied and the water. for the locomotive can be secured only from wells. It is thought likely that the reshments.

The ladies' are anxious that there shall struction is reached. No little anxiety was felt when it was learned that the track around the engine was completed, the reception will be a pleasant affair. lest the industrials should cut the telegraph wires, but the train went through without any molestations of the wires.

It will be almost impossible to pursue the army from this direction, since to build their track around the ditched engine they have taken up 300 or 400 feet of rails and ties.

United States Marshal Jones in Denver has been advised of the interference with the movement of the mail and counsel for the Missouri Pacific in Denver has been instructed to apply to the federal court for an injunction to prevent further interference by Sanders and his men with the operation of the road. Ditched More Engines.

The Coxeyites' stolen train encountered another obstacle near Arlington, eighty miles east of this city, where four en-gines were ditched by order of Superintendent Derby. The industrials are now laying track around this obstruction. Sheriff Moses has been trying all the morning to raise a posse to capture Sanders and his army, but so far has not been able to secure more than forty men. The railroad authorities here are in communication with Judge Hallett at Denver in regard to securing federal aid. A telegram was received here this afternoon saying that the industrials are stalled at Haswell, twelve miles east of Arlington by four engines ditched in a cut. At latest accounts they were tearing up and relaying track. At Ordway the water in their engine gave out and they obtained a supply from a well, carrying it in their dinner pails and coffee cups.

2 p. m.—Sanders' industrials have got beyond the Haswell wreck and are now going east. Another engine has been ditched at Diston, 119 miles from Pueblo. 3 p. m .- Sanders' train is reported to have reached Eads, the last station west of Diston where another engine has been ditched. Diston is 30 miles west of the state line. Engines were ditched at Olney, Arlington, Haswell and Diston.

Making Haste Slowly. DENVER, May 9.—The Missouri Pacific railroad company applied to United States Marshal Jones today to capture the Coxeyites, who seized a train at Pheblo. Most of the boats in the fleel were rigged with oars or sailing gear and sails were improvised from army blankets. Commodore Kelly expected to reach Runnells, 20 miles away, tonight.

The men were in good spirits and seemed glad to begin their course. Because of the numerous sand bars, the men were finally compelled to wade and push the boats. The men have ample provisions for several days and the towns along the route are preparing to con-tribute liberally. "Prof." King led the flotilla on his aquatic bicycle, the start being witnessed by a large crowd.

The Mother of the Woman Suffrage Movement

At the Home of Mr. John R. Mulvane.

LONG TALK WITH HER.

Full of Hope For Equal Suffrage in Kansas.

Wants a Plank in Both Party Platforms.

Susan B. Anthony, the leader of the voman suffrage movement, arrived in Topeka this afternoon. A Journal re-ural rights of the human being. I did not say her just after she had finish-not shrink from this like other women. ed dinner at the home of Mrs. John R. Mulvane, where she is an honored guest.

She is just as enthusiastic as she was when she startled the country with her reformation which I inaugurated. I exother strange doctrice. She talks of pect to live to see a still fuller realizawoman suffrage and of that only.

Speaking of an interviewer in St. Louis, who said "her eyes are just as bright as ever," she said: "Pshaw, that is all nonsense, they never were bright;" but, nevertheless, Miss Anthony's intellectual face is illuminated by expressive orbs which brighten constantly as she talks. She still wears her hair brushed neatly back from her forehead and gathered in rolls behind her ears in the fashion of twenty years ago. Her voice is strong but pleasing, and she speaks with emphasis, using her hands free. For gesturing even in common conversation. "The sole aim of the woman suffragists is to obtain the constitutional right publicans, Populists or Prohobitionisis." This is the fundamental principle of the present woman's suffrage campaign in Kansas as enunciated by Susan B. Anthony this afternoon to a STATE JOURNAL reporter. "The best interests of woman sufas Republicans or Democrats or Populists, but as suffragists.

"Paul said 'I know nothing but Christ and him crucified' and it must be the same with woman, she must know only woman suffrage. "Many party leaders have said let us submit the question at the ballot box but preserve a silence in our platforms. Now that is just what we don't want. Don't you see that if neither party has plank in their platform will silence their stump speakers on the question. We don't expect anyways fought us, but we will look after the leaders in the two dominant parties in Kansas-Republicans and Populists. Want the Rank and File.

"We do not get the rank and file of the voters out to our meetings. They think women are sentimental, that their opinions don't count and that they waste their time when they listen to the women. The most intellectual men and women do attend our meetings-we have stirred up the cream so to speak, but now we want to get to the common voter and we cannot reach him unless there are planks in the party platforms. Such a plank will silence our enemies and loosen the tongues of our friends. Our enemies will not dare to oppose the measure if it is a part of their platform and our friends will be given full rein in our support.

"That is what I am here for," continued Miss Anthony, "and the adoption of such planks is what I hope to accomplish. We will hold a hundred meetings in the state and next week we begin with the five to be held in the northern part of the state. I have just come from Leavenworth where we held two mass meetings and I have never seen the people of Leavenworth so stirred. meetings were remarkable for the large noted of intelligent men who attended "The prospect of the emancipation of woman was never as bright as today," said Miss Anthony. "Primarily, I want to say that the object of our movement s not a reversal of the relations existing between the sexes, but only a radical re-vision of them," she continued. "I want to elevate the home by making the wife a full partner in the establishment instead of the slave and vassal that she now is. Under the present conditions women marry for a livelihood. The man who gets a wife because the poor thing needs somebody to support her certainly ought not to feel that he has any of the element of a Don Juan in his composition. But liberate woman, give her the same opportunity as man to have her opinion counted, and see how quick the law of natural selection will assert itself and the divorce mills will go out of business. "I have had to combat the strongest prejudice of our civilization in my woman suffrage crusade. Once I got put into jail while battling for it in New York, and was fined $100 and costs by a justice of the United States supreme court. My friend Mrs. Minor had a almilar experience in St. Louis, During those days people who did not know me thought I was a witch with horns. That has all passed now and I am accorded nearly the same privileges as men in my country. The first quarter century of my career was a stormy one-so tempertuous, in fact, that I have often asked myself how I have managed to retain that equable temperament and sweet disposition with which God has endowed womanhood, I did it through philosophy. When I started on this career I realized that the task I had assumed was a stupendous one, and trained my mind to cool, philosophical reflection. I have been a profound student of sociology, and what I have ac-complished has been done by patient and persistent effort which few men could sustain.

"I have had but one object before me all my life. As soon as my mind began to unfold I saw the injustice of the system which deprives woman of the I consecrated myself to the work of reforming this system. I have lived to see what few reformers have been apared to enjoy-a realization in lar e part of the

By the Ballot Only.

"Of course, the ballot is the only means by which woman can hope to acquire her full rights. Give her this weapon and she will fight her own battles. And she won't be a tyrant, either. I know the two stock arguments of the enemy against my reform is the tyrannical and emotional nature of women. No greater slander was ever uttered. Is the mother a tyrant? Does the widow, sufdealy bereft and left with a houseful of children, without means of support, give way to her tears and let her offspring starve? There is no use to discuss these eccentricities attributed to womanhood. They are slanders, and that's all there is

"But won't the ballot have a tendency to unsex woman?" the reporter ventured to inquire.

"Nonsense!" exclaimed M's Anthony, "That's another stock argument of the enemy. It will only intensify the instinct of sex. Every woman has her ideal man—one whom she loves for love's sake. As now oppressed, few women can afford to wait to meet their ideal, or their approximate. They are forced into marriage by the necessity of getting somebody to support them. Liberate them, make them feel independent and self-respecting, and they will marry only the men they love.

As to Breckinridge. "What do you think of the Pollard-

Breckinridge verdiet?" "Glorious!" cried Miss Anthony, "I had never hoped for anything better than a hung jury. The result of that trial shows the drift of public thought more clearly than has been shown by any occurrence of the century. Even ten years ago such a verdict would linve been impossible. It illustrates the prog-ress made by our crusade in the past decade. Here is the spectac.e of a representative American jury giving a ver dict to a woman who had reached the age of consent, and when, at the time of submission, she knew perfectly well that the man could not right the wrong by marrying her, because he had a wife. speaks plainer than any words I might utter. It means that we are fast coming to one standard of conduct alike for men and women. It means that the chastity of the male must be as unquestioned as the chastity of the female. The press of the country reflected public opinion during the progress of that trial as it never did before. Not a newspaper in all this broad land tried to defend Breckinridge by quoting that trite and hick-neyed old excuse, 'The woman tempted "What sort of a wife does the woman suffragist make?" the reporter inquired, in an effort to change the discussion to another phase of the topic. "The finest in the world," came the answer quick and positive. "Take for instance, the wife of Senator Warren of Wyoming. She is one of the most charming women at Washington, is a leader in society at the capital, and is acknowledged by everybody as one of the most wifely wives imaginable. And yet, but for the fact that her husband is in the senate, Mrs. Warren would have accepted the nomination for governor of Wyoming at the last election.' Four new cases of measles were reported to the city health department this
